Vienna's Story

If you are looking for the "ultimate southern experience" you will find it in Vienna, GA, founded in 1841. The city is named after the Austrian capital but pronounced, "vye-anna". Why people ask? "Because we're in the south, that's why!"

This small city offers a quiet, friendly small town atmosphere steeped with local culture and tradition. You'll easily find unique collectibles, current fashions, beautiful historic homes, and prime hunting and fishing opportunities, both in and around Vienna. Of course, you cannot forget the barbeque! Vienna is home to the BIG PIG JIG®, Georgia's official Barbeque Cooking Championship.

Barbeque is not our only call to fame. You can delve into a rich history and culture to learn about Vienna's most notables - from Hollywood screen writer, an Olympic athlete, governors, senators, poets, authors, and artists. Vienna has produced its share of unique and famous individuals. Some of their homes still exist today.

Vienna's National Historic District

On January 28, 2005, all of Downtown Vienna and the older immediate outlying neighborhoods were listed on the National Register of Historic Places. That same year City Officials designated a large portion of this area as a Local Historic District and appointed the Vienna Historic Preservation Commission.

Vienna is home to the Official Georgia State Cotton Museum, located just one mile from the Downtown Square.
